WHEREAS, SELLER and BUYER desire to establish a Memorandum of Understanding to set forth the general term and conditions for the purchase of Auxiliary Power Unit ("APU") components.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of these premises and of the intent of the mutual covenants contained herein, the Parties mutually agree that:

The undated Distributor Agreement, number 98878, last amended on May 28, 2009, shall be amended by the Parties to add the V-22 program.

For purposes of this Memorandum of Understanding, the phrase "APU Components" shall mean an agreed-upon list of specific APU component parts related to the following military aircraft platforms: V-22, UH-60, CH-47 and F-16.

BUYER agrees to purchase aftermarket APU Components currently in the possession of SELLER related to the following military aircraft platforms: V-22, UH-60, CH-47 and F-16. The list of APU Components shall be finalized within 30 days of executing this Memorandum of Understanding.

The aggregate APU Components purchase price paid by BUYER shall not exceed USD$2,500,000.

If the aggregate value of the purchase price of the APU Components is less than USD$2,400,000, BUYER agrees to pay SELLER a one-time fee of $100,000 upon no later than December 31, 2011.

The Parties agree that the list of APU Components shall not include obsolete items.

SELLER agrees to use best efforts to assist BUYER with re-selling the APU Components.

APU Components for the V-22 program will be offered to BUYER at a 10% discount from SELLER'S current prices to the U.S. Government.

BUYER shall not raise the price of V-22 APU Components sold to the U.S. Government more than normal year-over-year escalation, as is customary in the industry, during the term of the aforementioned Distributor Agreement.

Payment for components delivered to BUYER on or before November 30, 2011, shall be made prior to December 31, 2011.

BUYER shall use best efforts to pay for components delivered after November 30, 2011 prior to December 31, 2011, using the Quick Pay system.
